Fort Worth Housing Solutions Announces New Vice President

FORT WORTH, Texas – Fort Worth Housing Solutions (FWHS) is proud to announce the appointment of Matthew Corcoran as Vice President of Development and Asset Management. Mr. Corcoran brings extensive experience building property portfolios while developing growth plans that have significantly driven increasing gross revenues for various companies.

“We have ambitious plans to execute and Matthew comes to us at a great time,” said Naomi W. Byrne, President of FWHS. “With the conversion of our public housing through the Rental Assistance Demonstration (RAD) program as well as implementing other large-scale projects, his understanding of development, financing and property and asset management will be essential as we continue our ground-breaking initiatives.”

"Fort Worth Housing Solutions is taking a unique approach in advancing their mission to provide vibrant, affordable and sustainable communities and programs. The impact of FWHS leadership can already be seen throughout Fort Worth and new and innovative developments are on the horizon," said Mr. Corcoran. "I am honored and humbled to be selected to be part of such a dynamic team and to lead some of these initiatives. It is truly an exciting time for FWHS and for Fort Worth."

His experience includes investment analysis, financial administration, asset management for large-scale property assets, office, retail, and multifamily property acquisitions, planning and new construction developments.
